

Caldwell: All right. The whole purpose of my life is to talk about this dream of life, this sense of Atlantis, the accomplishment, the joy of accomplishment.

Blum: We began the tape with you telling about your vision of lost Atlantis that you had as a youngster.

Caldwell: That is the beginning and the end of it.

Blum: Thank you, Alfred.